

Peep Progression Pathway - Scotland

What is the Peep Progression Pathway?

The Peep Progression Pathway is made up of a number of units (sometimes referred to as 'programmes' or 'courses') that are offered through your local Peep sessions. These units are offered on a wide variety of topics relating to the development of your child(ren) and the learning they do every day at home with you.

Who can do it?

The units are open to everyone and are recognised on a framework called the SCQF (Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework), which explains the different levels of learning.

The units are offered at three different levels – SCQF Level 3, 4 and 5 (more information on the levels are available from your Peep practitioner)

What do I need to do?

- Attend the Peep sessions with your baby/child
- Work your way through completing a keepsake book showing how you and your baby/child learn together

If you need extra support with anything, including with reading and writing, please feel free to have a chat with your Peep practitioner.

You are welcome to take your keepsake book home to work on – please remember to bring it back the following week!

'I really enjoyed finding out about how your child is learning so much from what you do with them at home. The course has given me lots of ideas for new ways to improve my child's learning. I like finding out about different ways to play with my son' Parent

What happens at the end of the course?

Once you have completed your keepsake book, and the Peep practitioner has checked it over, your details will be registered to receive a certificate.

After the course you could progress on to:

- another unit in a Peep session at the same level, or move on to a higher level
- co-deliver Peep sessions
- volunteering
- further education (college etc)
- employment.
